

Network of selected translators

Our translators are chosen for their professional language translation ability, expertise in industry sectors and their proven track record in both general and technical translation.

CELT has an in-house team for the most common language pairs i.e. Swedish - English - French - Spanish and German. For less common language pairs, we select the most qualified translator from our freelance network which was established in 1999.

We only use language translators who satisfy our stringent requirement criteria by combining technical expertise with proven linguistic ability. We do not use translation software in any shape or form. CELT's selection and evaluation process guarantees the quality of their services.
